The show "Reflections" is an experiment with some of "An Islander's Perspective" images and a photo copy machine at Staples. The CMTC's lab was closed for a 3 month period due to a major move. So, not having access to the equipment I worked with black and white printed images that I had, in order to make the plates on the photo copy machine. The show was displayed in the Robertson Library at UPEI for the University 100 students to use as a writing assignment.
